Home is not a place,
it is a state of mind

A journey

An experience

A project

One day, less than two years ago, we met a sicilian craftman creating amazing hand-thrown stools. In that moment we thought... The world would go crazy for something like that ... a stool smelling like Sicilian lemon trees.

That was the moment when we gave birth to Livingooh, a market place to sell italian product, tell stories, share ideas, make experiences.

Our products are the Essence of Italian Culture.

A LOT MORE THAN... Made in Italy

They are products that tell a story, that synthesize the passion and the effort of their own creators.

They are product experienced in Italy.

our daily MISSION.

Everyday we make our business grow selling Italian products, delivering worldwide happiness.

Experienced in Italy

Design is a dream
becoming a project.

Design is a dream becoming a project.

It finds his perfect space in a fairytale.

Livingooh in Wonderland is an emotional experience that represents our philosophy:
A space to connect the old and the new way to create design...
a challenge, a birth.

Here, every kind of reality finds his own dimension, everyone can be Alice for an instant, a minute or maybe more...

It's not an escape from reality, it's a way to make the world wait outside the door to have your own fairytale moment.
