

Every one needs a superhero to believe in!

Kubedesign is thrilled to announce its new collaboration with Warner Bros.

Prepare to be surprised!

Kubedesign's new collection uses superhero figures to explore relationships between the ordinary and the extraordinary, the good and the bad, the light and the dark.

Heroes show us that it doesn't matter how much darkness there is in the world because they will always manage to create light.

To give light to the future generations, the Kubedesign team has created a superb collection of green design lamps that represent superheroes.

Pick your favorite!
