

INTRODUCING

Outdoor Living

BY

COCO WOLF, JOHN CULLEN LIGHTING

AND MARINE LEATHER

Three great brands – Coco Wolf, John Cullen Lighting and Marine Leather - have come together to create a stunning Outdoor Living garden at the Baglioni Hotel Carlton in Milan. The collaboration between these like-minded luxury brands will be launched during the Fuorisalone show from the 17th April and open for all to enjoy until September.

The luxurious setting includes a selection of outdoor furniture from Coco Wolf, inspirational mood lighting from John Cullen Lighting and creative leather installations from Marine Leather. The strong synergy between the brands brings a unique level of luxury to showcase exciting outdoor products by creating an inspiring space at this prestigious hotel in Milan.

Coco Wolf

Identifying a niche in the market for outdoor furniture that doesn't compromise on the aesthetic and style of its indoor counterparts, Coco Wolf was founded in 2013 by sisters Rebecca Le Noel and Claudine Davis and their partners. The ethos of the brand is to create statement pieces that bring indoor living outdoors, irrespective of the season and climate, making any outdoor setting exceptional.

Coco Wolf furniture, hand crafted in Britain, is now specified by the world's leading designers & architects, and adorns stunning residential and hospitality venues worldwide.

John Cullen Lighting

With over 35 years of experience in discreet lighting, John Cullen Lighting offers a complete service for all aspects of interior and exterior lighting for the contemporary, traditional and energy efficient home, villa, superyacht or hospitality project.

Internationally-acclaimed, discreet light fittings provide the tools to deliver outstanding lighting for both interiors and landscape. All are designed in-house and proudly manufactured in the UK. They offer a bespoke award winning design service to ensure that you make the most of projects to inspire you with light.

Marine Leather

Marine Leather was born in 1930 as a family-run leather company and now it is one of the most known tanneries on the luxury market. It creates leather for indoor and outdoor use for high-end hospitality, residential and yachting industries and it is a trusted partner for architects, interior designers and contractors worldwide. The firm keeps its passion for craftsmanship as well as its leather-making heritage but it is always working towards continuous experimentation and innovative technologies.

Marine Leather is proud to be committed to the environment and all leftover products are either reused to make new design objects or turned into regenerated leather.

For further details, please, contact Marianna Filigheddu at marianna@marineleather.it.

www.cocowolf.co.uk | www.johncullenlighting.com | <http://www.marineleather.it/>