(Milan) – Canadian lighting manufacturer ANDlight makes its Italian debut for Fuorisalone at Ventura Future with the launch of three new collections designed by Design Academy Eindhoven Alumni Lukas Peet, and fellow Canadian designer Caine Heintzman.

Award winning Canadian lighting manufacturer Andlight will be launching three newly designed collections for the first time in Italy for the Fuorisalone during Milan Design Week (April 17-22, 2018) at Ventura Future in Milan's Futurdome — a beautiful liberty palace recently renewed and open to the public for the first time during the Design Week.

ANDlight will be showing three new products; Array, and Orbit, designed by Maison & Objet Americas 2015 Rising Talents winner, Lukas Peet; and Vine designed by Canadian designer Caine Heintzman.

New Releases for Milan Design Week Ventura Future 2018:

Orbit; Pendant, Table light – Design, Lukas Peet, 2018

An glowing opalescent glass globe enclosed in a wire cage evocative of the familiar planetary manoeuvre. Available as a pendant and table fixture.

Array; Pendant, Table and Sconce – Design, Lukas Peet, 2018

Technical yet minimal, The Array family physically utilizes its conductive chassis to deliver the electrical current responsible for illuminating its sandblasted opal discs. Available in linear & circular pendants, sconces and floor & table fixtures.

Vine; Pendant, Sconce/Flush Mount – Design, Caine Heintzman, 2018

The Vine pendant combines exaggerated form with the propensity for repetition resulting in an ambitious vertically scaling fixture. Available in several set length pendants, flush mount sconce or ceiling mount.

ABOUT ANDlight

Founded by Caine Heintzman, Matt Davis, and Lukas Peet, ANDlight is a contemporary lighting manufacturing company headquartered in Vancouver, Canada whose designs have reached global appeal. Currently found in stores across North America, Europe and Australia, as well as online through select dealers, ANDlight's products are designed, built and assembled in their Vancouver design studio and production facility. Taking inspiration from the old and new, ANDlight believes in lighting's ability to define space; from the intimacy in the home, the curated ambiance of hospitality and retail, to functional and inspiring workspaces. ANDlight's designs reflect their belief in quality, durability, innovation and environmental consciousness.
